

Committee-in-Focus: COMMUNICATIONS COMMITTEE

About the Committee

The Communications Committee is responsible for identifying, investigating, and implementing communications vehicles to meet evolving member needs and promoting a better understanding of the profession of epidemiology to other health professions and the public.

Leadership

TBA - Chair (2025-2027)

Tamara Chavez-Lindell - Vice Chair (2024-2026) tchavezl@alum.utk.edu

Charges/Goals/Focus

1. In collaboration with ACE Office Team, draft a committee action plan aligned with ACE's overall strategic plan. The plan should address two domains:
 - a. Communications of ACE activities, member spotlights, policy statements, etc., to the ACE membership and, where appropriate, the broader epidemiology community.
 - b. Media and social media trainings for ACE members to promote their own work.
2. Identify needs and resources for social media strategy informed by needs, cadence, and target audience/social media channels.
